

It used to be a nightmare during dinner and LATER. My phone would ring continuously with solicitations. I'm a single parent and do not have the extra money or time to talk to these people. I know it is their jobs, but they were out of hand. There were evenings I got calls after 10pm and calls on Saturday and Sunday. Enough is enough, it has been a pleasure not getting these solicitations.